

E-Learning

Keeping employees well trained enables you to profit from all the advantages of Starcom's powerful software tools provide your growing operation. The Starcom E-Learning Center is the ultimate solution for effective, affordable and convenient training. Using your internet browser you connect to the Starcom E-Learning Center and attend training courses in a virtual classroom without ever leaving your greenhouse.

Contact Starcom at 1-800-776-7878 for more information on the E-Learning Center.

Empower your Employees through E-Learning

Starcom Software Corporation

Starcom Computer Corporation
21520 30th Drive SE, Suite 101
Bothell, WA 98021

Phone: 1-800-776-7878
(425)486-6464
Fax: 425-487-1870

STARCOM
*E-Learning
Center*

Empower Your
Employees Through
E-Learning

Plant Partner Production Management E-Learning Courses

STARCOM
Computer Corporation

Production Management Courses

Course P0500—Production Catalog Setup

Length—2 hours of instruction plus 1 hour hands-on

Prerequisites: Students enrolling in this course should have basic navigation skills in Windows 95/98 or Windows 2000 and a basic understanding of the greenhouse production environment.

Objective: Students attending this E-Learning class should learn what the production catalog is and how to setup and manage the production catalog.

Topics:

- Production Catalog Definition
- Entering Containers
- Creating and Entering Forecast Groups
- Entering Genera
- Entering Class 1 (Variety/Series) Elements
- Entering Class2 (Color) Elements
- Adding Items to the production catalog
- Copying a forecast group
- Editing the production catalog
- Working with Mix Percentages

Course P0510—Plant Library Setup

Length: 2 hours of instruction plus 1 hour of hands on.

Prerequisites: Students enrolling in this course should have basic navigation skills in the Windows 95/98 or Windows 2000 and a basic understanding of the greenhouse production environment. Students should take course # P0500 Production Catalog Setup prior to this course or have instructor's permission.

Objectives: Students attending this class will learn what a plant library is and how to setup and manage plant libraries

Topics:

- Purpose of the Production Library
- Looking up libraries
- Understanding Seasons
- Growing Information
- Resolving Seasonal Conflicts
- Task and Materials Information

Course Outline for P0510 cont...

- Spacing Information
- Copying Library Information
- Changing Library Information

Course P0520—Production Management

Length: 2 hours of instruction plus 1 hour of hands on.

Prerequisites: Students enrolling in this course should have basic navigation skills in the Windows 95/98 or Windows 2000 and a basic understanding of the greenhouse production environment. Students should take course # P0500 Production Catalog Setup and P0510 Plant Library setup prior to this course or have instructor's permission.

Objectives: Students attending this class will learn how to create and manage forecasts and planting task.

Topics:

- Entering Forecasts
- Processing Forecast Goals
- Deleting Forecast Goals
- Running Task Master
- Marking Crops as Planted
- Running Production Labels

Course P0521—Production Reports and Production Utilities

Length: 2 hours

Prerequisites: Students enrolling in this course should have basic navigation skills in the Windows 95/98 or Windows 2000 and a basic understanding of the greenhouse production environment. Students should take course # P0500 Production Catalog Setup, P0510 Plant Library Setup and P0520—Production Management prior to this course or have instructor's permission.

Objectives: Students attending this class will learn about the production reports and production utilities that are available and how they can be used.

Topics:

- Understanding Production Reporting
- Running Reports
- Production Utilities

Production Plug-Ins

Course P0610—Space

Length—2.5 hours (coming soon)

Objectives: Students attending this E-Learning class will learn how to setup and use space planning and analysis.

Topics:

- Space Planning
 - Setup Space
 - Setup Production
- Space Analysis and Allocation
- Reporting
 - Space
 - Allocation

Course P0620—Materials Planner

Coming Soon

Starcom Computer Corporation
21520 30th Drive SE, Suite 101
Bothell, WA 98021

Phone: 1-800-776-7878
(425)486-6464
Fax: 425-487-1870